

Wiltshire manufacturer of ruggedised cases

ACHIEVES A KING'S AWARD FOR ENTERPRISE

Leaffield Cases, a subsidiary of Leaffield Environmental, has been honoured with a King's Award for Enterprise for its excellence in International Trade.

Announced on Tuesday 6 May 2025, Leaffield is one of 197 organisations nationally to be recognised with the prestigious award.

Leaffield Environmental was founded in 2010 and is based in Corsham, Wiltshire. The company designs and manufactures premium plastic products including custom, ruggedised cases. A subsidiary of the Leaffield Group, Leaffield Cases launched in 2014 and has since become established as innovators in custom case solutions within a range of domestic and international markets, from aerospace and defence to areas of specialised industrial technology.

The Award programme, now in its 59th year, is the most prestigious business award in the country, with successful businesses able to use the esteemed King's Awards Emblem for the next five years.

Managing Director, Philip Maddox, says:

We are delighted to have achieved a King's Award for Enterprise. Leaffield Environmental's products are designed and manufactured to the highest quality by dedicated teams at our factory in Corsham, Wiltshire, and sold to the world – all through the hard work of people who live locally and have worked at the company for many years.

It's especially exciting to be recognised for our excellence in international trade. Despite a challenging manufacturing landscape, Leaffield's overseas sales have grown by 63% over three years and now make up almost half of our total sales.

I look forward to the opportunities the King's Award will offer in expanding the reach of our quality, sustainable products to markets across the globe.

The King's Awards for Enterprise, previously known as The Queen's Awards for Enterprise, were renamed in 2023 to reflect His Majesty The King's desire to continue the legacy of HM Queen Elizabeth II's by recognising outstanding UK businesses.

Leaffield Cases is a market-leading UK designer, manufacturer, and supplier of tough, ruggedised cases for use in the harshest environments. Whether it's vibration attenuation or shock and impact protection required, our innovative in-house design team can customise every aspect of the Aegis protective system to an end user specification.
